Bookworm

A worm ate words. I thought that wonderfully
Strange – a miracle – when they told me a crawling
Insect had swallowed noble songs,
A night-time thief had stolen writing
So famous, so weighty. But the bug was foolish
Still, though its belly was full of thought.

A Day in the Life and Legacy Photographs

Many thanks to all the pupils who entered photographs last week. We will be looking at the photos after the October Break so more news then. Everyone interested in taking a Legacy Photograph – that is a more serious look at the school- the deadline for that is Friday 14th October. You will need to bring your photo to Mr Thomson on a pen drive as it will need to be of a digital size large enough to produce a large quality print and so will not email. If you are interested in this and want to find out more, please come to a meeting at lunchtime in room 307 (Mr Thomson) at 1pm where we can discuss ideas further. Please note that the Legacy Competition is open to all pupils, staff, parents and the wider community that use Boroughmuir.
