Dear S6 Young People

It's almost your turn – to walk out of school for the last time ever – and it is an amazing, liberating feeling. This transition truly is one of the biggest life events you'll experience. There is nothing to hold you back now and everything to play for.

Everyone who's been part of the process, your parents/carers, school staff and your friends, all deserve to be acknowledged and will be feeling a mixture of pride and sadness at this farewell, but of course there are celebrations along the way.

With that in mind, make sure you have fun but don't jeopardise what you've worked so hard for. Just take it in your stride and enjoy these next few weeks. They will never come again.

Thanks from us all at the Council for being part of our Edinburgh family and we hope you feel well served by your school and well set up for your future. Some of you might want to keep in touch for longer than others and that's ideal – talk to your Pupil Support Leader or Key Adult if that feels right for you.

For everyone else, the best of luck for your exams or whatever your next steps are. Stand tall, hold your head up and be proud of what you've achieved and what you'll become. It is all there for the taking.

Kind regards

Lorna French
